UD HOLDS OPEN HOUSE FOR PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS AND THEIR PARENTS

DAYTON, Ohio — The University of Dayton will host an open house and academic fair for prospective students and their parents from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Frericks Convocation Center on the UD campus.

University faculty members and deans from each academic area will be on hand to discuss programs and majors. Career placement counselors, financial aid representatives, staff members from student development and admission counselors will be available to discuss career and educational planning, financing a college education, student life and enrollment procedures. Tours of campus will be led by UD students.

Brother Raymond Fitz, S.M., president of UD, will welcome guests at 9 a.m. From 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., prospective students will break into small groups to talk to UD students about academics, student life and UD in general.

At the same time, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., presentations will be given for parents. John Geiger, provost, will provide information about the general education requirements. Joyce Wilkins, director of financial aid, will discuss financing a college education. And Lisa Warren, from the career placement office, will talk about career preparation and placement services offered to UD students.

Campus tours will begin at 11:30 a.m. Brochures, catalogues, applications and various materials on the University of Dayton will be available. Admission is free and open to the public.
